"International trade fair for plastics processing "

At the world's leading trade event for industrial plastics processing, 1,636 exhibitors presented their international range of products and services. Fakuma offers a comprehensive overview of all plastics technologies.

The trade fair highlight is regarded as a technology barometer for the fields of extrusion technology, thermoforming and 3D printing. Once again this year, the flagship event will focus on the challenges of digitalisation, process automation, energy efficiency and circular economy. Another important objective of Fakuma involves the presentation of plastics processing in the intelligently networked factory of tomorrow.
