Bolton, United Kingdom –

Commenting on the award, Roy Ball, President of the MHEA, said, “The Executive Committee deliberated long and hard over the entries for the Supplier of the Year Award 2021, but we were unanimous that Ajax Equipment stood out for successfully navigating 50 years in the materials handling industry, gaining ISO9001 certification and achieving a reputation for producing quality, problem solving equipment for a range of applications. On behalf of the MHEA, I wish Ajax every success in the future of which I am in no doubt they will achieve.”

“It is a privilege to have Ajax’s work recognised by our peers in the Materials Handling Engineers Association. To hold both the Solids Handling and Processing Association (SHAPA) Company of the Year and Materials Handling Engineers

Association Supplier of the Year is testament to the hard work and dedication to customer service that our design and production teams provide. We send our thanks to MHEA for another excellent BulkEx conference and extend our congratulations to the other category winners and shortlisted companies,” said Eddie McGee, managing director, Ajax Equipment.
