

Company News

New Partnership brings Martin Engineering to UAE

Edited by on 15. Mar. 2019

Martin Engineering has entered the Middle East market by forging a partnership with German Conveyor Industries LLC, UAE's experts in the design, installation and maintenance of industrial plants. The products are exclusively supplied, installed and maintained by German Conveyor's local team of specialists. The deal means that Martin Engineering's range of products are available for the first time in UAE.

The new partnership delivers Martin Engineering's bulk material handling expertise to UAE.

With a highly skilled team of 150 people, German Conveyor Industries LLC- part of Quarry Mining LLC - designs, manufactures, installs and maintains bulk handling systems, processing plants and environmental technologies in the UAE minerals and mining sector. Martin Engineering is present in more than 20 countries across six continents, supplying innovative conveyor belt cleaners, market-leading air cannons and associated parts to attain cleaner, safer, more effective and sustainable processing. The company's products help eliminate blockages, prevent spillage and reduce airborne material. Teams from Martin Engineering offices in Germany, Turkey, South Africa and the UK have been working alongside colleagues from German Conveyor Industries to develop an extensive product offering and year-round, rapid-response service. The new partnership has already given rise to a number of opportunities with materials producers in UAE. “Our colleagues at German Conveyor have decades of experience and expertise, with an excellent understanding of the expanding UAE industrial sector,” commented Robert Whetstone, Martin Engineering’s Area Vice President. “They are a highly dedicated and professional team, and I am confident of a successful and long-term partnership.”

German Conveyor designs, manufactures, installs and maintains bulk handling systems.

Moritz Kerler, owner of German Conveyor Industries LLC said: “We are delighted to be launching this partnership to bring world-class products from Martin Engineering into UAE. Martin Engineering has unrivalled experience solving problems in bulk handling systems, and their unique Foundations training programs and manuals enable us to share that knowledge with customers.”“We are particularly excited about introducing products such as Martin Engineering’s pioneering CleanScrape® conveyor belt cleaning system – the only product of its kind on the market – and its range of flow aid solutions that are proven to reduce downtime and improve productivity. In addition to benefiting our existing customers, our partnership gives us the opportunity to enter new market sectors in UAE.”More information on Martin EngineeringGoogle Search - WebGoogle Search - ImagesMartin Engineering on the PortalMartin Engineering Videos on bulk-onlinesee also: