

Personal News

Elcan Industries: Edel Rodriguez new Director of Business Development, Americas

Edited by on 20 Apr 2018

S - Edel formerly served in the US Military in Military intelligence and was stationed in various military bases across the United States. Edel received his degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Miami and is planning on continuing his studies to receive his Masters in Business Administration. He will be promoting Elcan Industries line of Hi-Sifter sieving equipment along with their line of advanced rectangular and tumbler screeners. Edel will also focus on expanding Elcan's existing representative network and toll processing operations.